On top of the insider study guides, video lessons, and proven frameworks, checklists, and practice exams from our complete Private Pilot home study program...

But here's the plot twist...

While you'll be getting the bulk of your learning through our structured home study recordings and lessons...

When you enroll in Ground School Takeoff by [Deadline Date], you'll also get four 1-hour live group coaching sessions with me.

Yes, [First Name] — the kind of real-time guidance, mentorship, and personalized Q&A that was previously only available to students in our advanced flight training program is now available to you.

This is your time to ask me anything — about airspace, weather, navigation, regulations, the written exam, or any roadblock you hit along the way. No question is too basic. No topic is off limits.

The first live call happens soon, which means you need to enroll before [Deadline Date] to lock in your spot.

I can't wait to meet you and help get your aviation journey off the ground — literally.

Clear skies ahead,

[Your Name]

P.S. One of your bonuses is an exclusive, never-before-released recording of [Expert CFI Name]'s "Weather Decision Mastery" training — previously only available inside our private advanced program. Here's what one of our student pilots had to say:

"This was a game-changer. I had to pause it every 15 minutes just to absorb everything. I finally understand how to read weather like a real pilot — not just memorize it for the test."

This recording disappears on [Date].

After that, it's gone for good. Don't miss it.
